

TWO-DAY CONFERENCE: MAY 22-23, 2018 in WASHINGTON, DC

INNOVATING TEACHING AND LEARNING IN THE FOOD-ENERGY-WATER-NEXUS

Toward a National Collaborative for Food, Energy, & Water Systems Education (NC-FEW)

The purpose of this two-day invited conference will be to draw upon expertise faculty from around the world leading educational programs (K-12, undergraduate, informal, non-formal) and education research grounded in the Food-Energy-Water-Nexus. Conference attendees will have opportunities to share their research and engage with colleagues from a diverse array of disciplinary backgrounds to articulate and shape discourse around a systemic approach to FEW-Nexus educational interventions and education research. The conference will result in the development of a framework for a National Collaborative for Food, Energy, & Water Education (NC-FEW) and lay the foundations for a transdisciplinary community of FEW-Nexus education scholars. Applicants will be notified of selection after abstracts are reviewed.

Engage with colleagues
from a diverse array of professional communities

Help shape
the conversation
around FEW-Nexus
education and education research

Travel support for invited participants

APPLY AND SUBMIT POSTER ABSTRACT:
[http://go.unl.edu/
scimathapply](http://go.unl.edu/scimathapply)

Create an Account first, then log in and click on Apply next to this conference.

Hosted by: University of Nebraska-Lincoln, Purdue University, Michigan State University, Virginia Tech, The Ohio State University, and University of Missouri

CONFERENCE SUPPORT FROM:

Network of STEM Education Centers (NSEC)

United States Department of Agriculture
National Institute of Food and Agriculture

AGRICULTURAL RESEARCH

VIRGINIA TECH.

Questions? Contact Cory Forbes: cory.forbes@unl.edu